Learning Outcomes

#	Learning Outcome
1	Comprehends both the main points and specific details of authentic Arabic audio recordings across varying speaking paces, intonations, and standard/regional accents.
2	Identifies subtle nuances, idiomatic expressions, cultural references, and the speaker’s tone or intent that are not explicitly stated, relying on contextual clues.
3	Systematically takes effective notes on key information, main arguments, and specific data during listening tasks, summarizing the content accurately in oral or written form.
4	Recognizes phonological variations, pauses, liaison (wasl), and pronunciation differences in spoken Arabic, linking acoustic cues to accurate syntactic structures.
5	Implements short-term retention and real-time comprehension strategies, establishing essential foundational skills for consecutive and simultaneous interpreting.
